Applications:

Our yuanwenyu brand offers a wide range of CNC machined parts in various models such as 1X893 and OEM. These computer-numerically-controlled parts are produced in our facility located in Guangdong, China, ensuring top-quality products. Our CNC-machined components are made from high-quality materials such as aluminum, steel, brass, and more, providing durability and longevity to the product.

Our CNC machined parts are versatile and can be used in various industries such as automotive, aerospace, medical, and more. These parts are useful in scenarios where precision is critical, and even the slightest deviation can lead to catastrophic results. They can be used in applications such as engine parts, hydraulic systems, and more. The Computerized Numerical Cutting parts are known for their accuracy and repeatability, making them ideal for use in industries where quality and consistency are essential.

Our CNC machined parts are certified, ensuring that they meet the required standards of quality. The minimum order quantity for these parts is 50 pieces, and the price range is between $2.35 to $12.68 per piece. We provide various packaging options such as EPE foam, Anti-Rust Paper, Stretch Film, Plastic bag +Carton, and more. We offer fast delivery times and flexible payment terms, making it easy for our customers to do business with us.

Our CNC machined parts undergo 100% inspection before shipment, ensuring that our customers receive top-quality products. We accept OEM/ODM orders and provide various drawing formats such as PDF, DWG, IGS, STEP, and more. Our supply ability is 1000000 Piece/Pieces per Month, and we offer standard export carton or customized packaging options to meet our customer's needs.
